“This is a tart and tasty effort, matching pear and white peach fruit to brisk acidity. There is a touch of unsalted butter, suggesting at least partial malolactic fermentation, and it leads into a pleasantly creamy finish.”

“This offers a smoothly ripe and gently creamy array of fresh peach and white-nectarine aromas and flavors with a wealth of upbeat purity on the palate. Citrus edge on the finish. Handy balance here. Drink now.”

“The 2016 ‘Gravel Road’ Chardonnay is sourced from a host of Willamette Valley vineyards including Gran Moraine, Knudsen and Marsh Estate. The nose offers aromatics of orchard fruit, butterscotch with toasty Challah bread and ripe banana. The palate is nicely textured, with white peach, roasted pineapple, Meyer lemon and macadamia nut cream flavors persisting through the long finish.”
