

Tasting Notes

More garnet than ruby in color, the nose gives bright cherry compote with a bit of roasted hazelnut, a hint of spice (fennel and cinnamon) and a squeeze of Italian coffee. The very rich concentrated cherry flavor with spice sails across the palate seeming to get more concentrated as it travels to a very pleasing fate. Yep, we could drink this all evening and never tire of the developing flavors.