“The winery’s reserve is a barrel selection derived from the Wits’ End estate vineyard. Ripe blackberry and black cherry fruit is perfectly matched to layered details of cinnamon and espresso. The tannins have been softened up a bit with 18 months of barrel aging, and they carry a slightly drying touch of tea leaves. All in all this is a lovely, balanced wine, drinking well at the moment but certainly ageworthy for drinking over the next decade.”

“Harmonious and well-knit, with vibrant raspberry, fresh violet and spiced orange notes that gain polish on the long finish. Drink now through 2025. ”
